

TWAS-Lenovo Science Prize 2017

Distinguished TWAS Member,

I am pleased to inform you that the call for nominations for the 2017 TWAS-Lenovo Science Prize is now open.

The Prize, sponsored by Lenovo, has been established to give international recognition and visibility to outstanding scientific achievements made by scientists living and working in the developing countries.

In 2017 the prize will be given for outstanding achievements in Geological Sciences.

The prize carries a USD 100,000 monetary award and a medal.

I am pleased to invite you to nominate qualified candidates to be considered for the above prize.

To this purpose, I enclose herewith the 2017 nomination form together with a file containing additional information about this scheme.

The deadline for receiving nominations is 15 May 2017.

I would like to bring to your attention that the TWAS-Lenovo Science Prize targets the most prestigious scientists in the field, therefore we rely on your discretion and scrutiny when nominating suitable candidates.

Counting on your collaboration, I send you my best regards,

Mohamed H.A. Hassan
